

FALL SCHOOL ON WINE LAW IN THE EU
9th Edition
(04 – 08.11.2019)

FACULTY MEMBERS

Ferdinando Albisinni is Full professor of European Food and Agricultural Law at the Università della Tuscia, Viterbo, Scientific Director of the EFLC – European Food Law Center of the same University. He is the Scientific Director of the Advanced Master in European Food Law at the University Roma 3, a Member of the Bar of Roma, admitted before the Supreme Court and the EU Court of Justice.

Benjamin Fontaine is a registered Intellectual Property attorney since 2003 (CNCPI, France) and a solicitor admitted to the Alicante Bar (Spain) since 2005. He is a partner of the firm E.G.Y.P. in charge of the Alicante (ES) branch Office. A former chair of the Geographical Indications Committee of ECTA, Benjamin is, since 2017, an auditor of the quality of the EUIPO decisions.

Theodore Georgopoulos is the Director of the Wine & Law Program – A Jean Monnet Chair, President of the Georges Chappaz Institute for Vine and Wine in Champagne, President of the International Wine Law Association (2020-2022), Director of the Journal of Wine and Spirits Law and Managing Partner of Georgopoulos & Associates Law Firm, specializing in Wine & Food Law.

Stephen Stern is a partner of Corrs Chambers Westgarth, one of Australia's leading law firms and an intellectual property lawyer and litigator with a significant wine and spirit practice. Stephen is the Chairman of the Australian Intellectual Property Group and a Vice-President (and former President) of the International Wine Law Association (AIDV).

